BANK REPLIES TO ASSUMPSIT ACTION TODAY

The Fairfield National Bank today filed an answer in the assumpsit action brought against it by the Penn-Moc Shoe Company of Fairfield in which it asks the court to strike the complaint against it and enter judgment in favor of the bank.

In its answer the bank listed checks totaling $9,164.89 which it admits apparently were forged and thus did not have an authentic signature. It stated that it has paid Penn-Moc that amount.

It denies that it "wrongfully deducted from the plaintiff (Penn-Moc) account the sum of $37,954.54 or any other sum or sums."

The suit was brought against the bank by Penn-Moc after the shoe company's bookkeeper, William N. Shanks, disappeared. Charges of forgery of checks were brought against Shanks who currently is in the Carroll County jail charged with two bank hold-ups.

28 OTHER CHECKS

The bank denies knowledge that 28 other checks were forged and demands proof at trial. Those checks total $21,853.95.

The bank claims that it supplied statements on or about the first of each month to the Penn-Moc Shoe Company and returned the checks.

The checks on which the bank paid, according to its answer, were, February 16, to Western Union Telegraph Company, $1,495; February 20, to Western Union, $1,695; February 27, to Western Union, $1,790; March 3, to Western Union, $1,530; March 6, to Western Union, $1,830; March 10, to William N. Shanks, $429.75; March 10, to William N. Shanks, $395.14.

Adams House Is Being Razed

Workmen, tearing down the fire-damaged Adams House (formerly the Eagle Hotel) and the Eberhart apartments, said today they thought it might take a month to raze the four-story structure. In the photograph above is shown the steel bucket at the end of a 60-foot boom taking a three-quarter yard "bite" out of the brick walls. Trucks haul the debris to the old brick yard quarry. Kenneth L. Dillman, of Mechanicsburg, operates the big boom for the Cumberland Construction Company, Le-moyne, which has the contract to raze the building. (Times photo)

BOOKLET IS PUBLISHED ON OLD GROTO

Rt. Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, rector of Mount St. Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, and former chancellor of the Harrisburg Diocese, has published a 32-page history of the Mount St. Mary's Grotto, the oldest Lourdes replica in the country.

Msgr. Mulcahy traces the erection of the grotto back to the founding days of the college under Rev. John Dubois in 1808. Here at the oldest shrine to the Blessed Virgin in continuous existence in the United States, Venerable Mother Seton and her band of pioneer Sisters of Charity assembled in 1809 for frequent prayers and meditation. Msgr. Mulcahy quotes copiously from her journals. Here, too, she taught the children of the parish.

In 1827 a retreat was held at the grotto which was attended by four future bishops and John McCloskey who was to become the first American Cardinal. All were then students at Mt. Mary's.

ANNIVERSARY DEVOTIONS

In 1858, as the college celebrated its fiftieth anniversary, the grotto was the site of religious devotions. Corpus Christi processions were begun also and George Miles, the poet of the mountain, immortalized the shrine in his Jubilee Ode "Aladdin's Palace."

The construction of the Lourdes shrine began in 1875 but the new edifice did not immediately displace the original grotto.

Just prior to the sequentennial celebration of the college, Rev. Fr. Hugh J. Phillips began the renovation of the area. Stations of the Cross were erected; the natural amphitheater was enlarged; shrubs were planted, a huge parking lot built and the general grounds improved.

BRITISH ARE FAVORITES IN NET CUP PLAY

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — After a week of hard practice on unfamiliar courts, Great Britain's Wightman Cup tennis team today was near its peak as it opened competition as strong favorites against the United States.

Britain's squad, four of the finest women amateur players ever to represent that country, meet the U.S. foursome on the Saddle & Cycle Club courts.

There are two singles and one doubles today, followed Sunday by a windup of three singles and one doubles. Each match won is worth one point.

DEFENDING CHAMPS

Great Britain won the cup 4-3 last year, but never since 1924-1925 has that country taken it twice in succession. Since the series started in 1923, the U.S. has built a 26-6 edge.

Teen-agers carry the U.S. hopes this time, with its two-top-ranked players facing Britain's strongest-rated in opening matches.

In the first match, Karen Hantze, 18, San Diego, meets Wimbledon finalist Christine Truman, 20. Next on the firing line is Billie Jean Moffitt, 17, Long Beach, Calif., against Ann Haydon, 22, member of the Wightman Cup team since 1957.

Miss Hantze and Miss Moffitt wind up opening day in a doubles match against Miss Truman and Deirdre Catt, 21.

The No. 3 singles players, Justina Bricks, 18, St. Louis and Wimbledon champion Angela Mortimer, will start Sunday's action. They will be followed by matches between Miss Hantze and Miss Haydon and Miss Moffitt and Miss Truman.

The final match sends Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont and Margaret Varner, both of Wilmington, Del., against Miss Mortimer and Miss Haydon.

State police said Williams shot Eugene Keith, 28, of Belle Glade, Fla., on Thursday following a quarrel over a woman. The shooting occurred at the Morrisburg migrant labor camp about 15 miles north of here.

Keith was listed in satisfactory condition at a Lewisburg Hospital with a bullet wound of the back.

Negro Churches Underwrite White Minister To Serve As Hong Kong Missionary

By LEE WINBORN

PONTIAC Press Staff Writer
ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — A white minister Friday finished an intensive training program, financed primarily by Negro churches, to prepare him for his forthcoming assignment as a missionary in Hong Kong.

The Rev. Thomas Tune, 32, put in 60 hours a week—10 hours a day, six days a week over a two month period—preparing for his new job.

He completed his capsule course in Chinese, a prerequisite for his forthcoming foreign assignment in Hong Kong. Ordinarily the course takes a year but he did it in six weeks.

IST BY NEGROES

Tune is believed to be the first United States white evangelist sent by a Negro church to do missionary work abroad.

Officials at Michigan Christian Junior College near Rochester also believe he is the first student to take such a cram course in Chinese in a Christian college anywhere in the country.

"I feel like a guinea pig," said the Kentucky-born minister, "but the experience has been extremely worthwhile and enjoyable."

LIKE ARMY COURSE

"My course in Chinese was something like the one the army offers in eight weeks to teach Cuban refugees the English language," he explained.

The Murray, Ky., minister said he completed a book on spoken Chinese in five weeks and then concentrated on reading and writing the language.

He now has a basic vocabulary of about 400 words in the Mandarin dialect, the national language of China.

HOPES TO HELP

With the language barrier broken, Tune expressed hope he would be able to minister both physically and spiritually to the

MISSION DREAM

Tune's dream of becoming a missionary in the Orient found fruition in California early this spring. He was a minister at the Church of Christ, Pleasant Hills, just 20 miles from North Richmond, Calif., where there was a Negro church of the same denomination.

He and the Negro minister, The Rev. F. F. Carson, used to preach in each other's pulpits and soon both congregations became aware of Tune's desire to work in the Orient.

The Negro church members voted to back their friend. They enlisted the cooperation of other units of their church across the country to raise the money necessary to send Tune to the Michigan college and to pay the expenses of his forthcoming two years abroad.

In addition, the Rev. M. Tune said three other Negro units of his church in California—East Palo Alto, Oakland and San Francisco—chipped in to pay the expenses of his wife, Charlene, and their four children who stayed at home in Madison, Tenn., while he was in Michigan.

He estimated the cost of his training in Michigan, and his two years abroad with his family would run about $25,000—with about 85 per cent of it raised by Negro congregations.

U.S. Plans To Launch Man Into Orbit Before Jan. 1

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An 88-foot Atlas missile stands on a launch pad here ready to provide the thrust for an all-out United States effort to send a man into orbit before the end of the year.

Within a few days it is scheduled to blaze into the sky in an attempt to place an unmanned Project Mercury space capsule into orbit for the first time. The test will be a vital one.

If all goes right, the capsule automatically will return to earth after one 110-minute pass around the globe. It will reach an altitude of 154 miles.

TO LAUNCH CHIMP

Then a chimpanzee will be inserted in another capsule for a three times around-the-world trip. If he comes back safely, an American astronaut will take the same journey—to follow the trail already blazed by the Russians Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov.

Some officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration say the manned orbit test can be accomplished before next Jan. 1. Others, less optimistic, believe it will be at least early 1962.

The space agency Friday cleared a possible obstacle to manned orbit flight this year when it canceled any additional suborbital rocket rides like those of Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

NO PROBLEMS

NASA said detailed evaluation of these two 15-minute up-and-down flights "revealed no problems which would require additional suborbital flights." The announcement said the space task group "will now devote its full energies and resources to the orbital phase of Project Mercury and to follow-on flight programs."

The Atlas will be on trial in the upcoming shot. Four times it has come to the launch pad with a Mercury capsule. Three times it failed causing months delay in the project.

One of the failures occurred on the only previous effort to propel the capsule into orbit. The Atlas blew up 30 seconds after liftoff, but a rocket escape system pulled the capsule free and it will be re-flown next week.

ERASES DIFFICULTIES

Since that April 25 explosion, technicians have worked carefully with the Atlas, ironing out difficulties. In military tests, the Atlas has worked wonders. But troubles develop when the large capsule with lines not aerodynamically smooth is placed on top. To solve these problems, the upper section of the Atlas, where it is mated to the spacecraft, has been strengthened.

If the unmanned capsule, chimp and astronaut shots are successful, the space agency plans several more orbit tests to determine man's ability to perform useful functions in the weightlessness of space travel.

ANNIVERSARY YEAR FOR PA. ROAD SYSTEM

This month marks the 50th anniversary of Pennsylvania's state highway system.

August 11, 1911, the state announced that it had acquired its first road, the Gettysburg-Harrisburg pike.

The road was the first to be taken over by the state at the start of what was planned to be an 8,000-mile system. The first roads for which the state accepted responsibility were the 13 that concentrate on Harrisburg and the first to be accepted was the local highway.

On August 11, 1911, State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow notified the Adams, Cumberland and York County Commissioners and the boroughs and townships through which the road passed that he had taken over that highway. He added that "The Gettysburg pike is now being surveyed by engineers under direction of C. W. Hardt who are running levels preparatory to rebuilding and will afford a fine scenic route between Harrisburg and the battlefield, something that has long been desired by automobilists."

Fifty years later the state is in the process of replacing the present Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. with a four-lane superhighway.

Denies Guilt In 32-Year-Old Death

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Charles Kucsan has pleaded innocent to the hit-run death of 32 years ago of a companion. Lehigh County Detective Capt. Robert Sperling testified at a hearing Friday that Kucsan signed a statement saying he and Fry were in a card game in a speakeasy here on Jan. 12, 1929, when Fry caused him of cheating. Sperling said Kucsan told him that he left the place, waited outside, with his car, and struck Fry as he crossed a street.

Kucsan was quoted as saying he only meant to scare Fry, who died in a hospital the next day. He was arrested last March after an anonymous telephone call to police.

SCOOTER OK IN EUROPE BUT NOT IN PENNA.

John Blakemore's 3,000-mile tour of Europe by motor scooter ended Friday in Gettysburg.

The 19-year-old Junior at the University of Missouri started a tour of Europe by traveling there in June with a student group at reduced rates. He found that motor scooters traveled 65 miles to the gallon of gasoline and could be had secondhand, for $230. Later when he arrived in England, he found he could have done better there. The same type scooter was available in England for $218.

He found the scooter worked well on the roads in the Swiss and Bavarian Alps and didn't cause much more bouncing than other vehicles when traveling over the cobblestoned streets of some parts of Europe.

GOT COOPERATION HERE

Returning to the U.S., he had planned upon arrival in New York to ship the scooter home and travel by bus but he found freight charges to his home in Columbia, Mo., would be $61. He revolted and drove off the dock, planning to head for home via scooter.

By the time he had reached Gap at a 30-mile-an-hour pace, with traffic racing around him, Blakemore decided to call it quits when he reached Gettysburg. He found today that the trip from New York here saved him $31.

He added that he found Gettysburgians "the most cooperative I have met anywhere." The Reading Co. agent searched books to find the cheapest way to ship a bike, a bicycle shop donated a crate and the Brinkerhoff Moving Co. employees crated the scooter for him.

In the meantime he found time to look around Gettysburg, making the Varsity Diner his headquarters. There was another reason for staying in Gettysburg. His funds had dwindled to $2 and he finally, after all summer's traveling, had to wire home for more money.

It's Chaos In Harzerstrasse Germany As Communists Block All Escape Routes To Freedom

EDITOR'S NOTE — Lynn Heinzerling, AP's Pulitzer prize-winning foreign correspondent, observed and wrote about Berlin in Hitler's day. Now he's back. And here's what he has found.

By LYNN HEINZERLING
BERLIN (AP)—It is pure chaos in Harzerstrasse.

Everything north of Harzerstrasse is in Communist-ruled East Berlin. But the street and sidewalks are in West Berlin. The people living along the north side of the street have had the best of two worlds. Their back doors opened up on the bounteous life of West Berlin.

Then a group of grim workmen nailed shut every door on Harzerstrasse and plastered brick walls inside the doors.

UGLY WALLS

Other workmen put rather ugly concrete walls across the end of the three side streets leading into Harzerstrasse from the north. Several hundred people living in the four-story apartment buildings along the street were consigned to the restrictions of Communist living.

Communist police and soldiers took up positions on nearby roofs to see that nobody tried to jump out of windows. They also took up positions behind the walls in the street and they laid barbed wire in one flower bed at a corner where the occupants might possibly jump six feet from a balcony to freedom.

A little farther along the street Communist soldiers took up positions in some gardens, clumping through the neat cabbage patches and the petunias. All this resulted apparently from the fact that Harzerstrasse was a popular exit for fed-up East Berliners early in the week.

ATTRACTED CROWDS

The blocked-up doors and the new walls at the intersections attracted crowds all day. And the young "people's police" and soldiers on the other side of the walls took a lot of heckling.

"Yesterday 10 of you men came over," shouted a man from the capitalist side of the wall. "Maybe there'll be more."

AGED VISITOR

An aged and bent little lady who had come 25 miles to see a friend couldn't get in the house to see her. The friend was sobbing from a third floor window. A Communist policeman blandly told the old lady to walk to the nearest authorized entry to Communist Berlin, a walk of about four miles.

"You must be crazy," a West German shouted at him. "Can't you see she's not going to start a revolution?"

A West Berlin policeman who had been watching the antics of the Communist forces all day shrugged and said "other countries, other customs." He said many of the soldiers across the wall were not Berliners.

He said the East German soldiers seemed to be depressed and he would not talk with him. He looked down the pleasant shaded street and sighed.

The new wall, described by some West German policeman as the "Chinese Wall," is made of concrete building blocks, nearly six feet high. Iron bars have been inserted along the top for holding barbed wire. The wall is not continuous, but is laid across every street or vacant area which might be an escape exit.

Car Plunges Into River; Man Drowns

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Russell Bunte, 30, of Sloan, was drowned Friday night after the accelerator of the automobile he was driving stuck and the car plunged into the Niagara River.

Three other persons were in the car, but all managed to escape. Bunte could not swim, they said. The survivors told police that Bunte reached down to dislodge the accelerator when it stuck, and that the car careened out of control, crashed through a wire fence and went over a retaining wall into ten feet of water.

41 PASSENGER BUS IS STOLEN

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa. (AP)—A big, 41-passenger bus with enough fuel to go 600 miles was stolen from a garage parking lot here today.

Thomas Davis, chief dispatcher for the Edwards' Lakes-to-Sea bus lines at Williamsport, said the bus was being kept in the lot overnight. It was to be used by a group of men on a charter trip from Mount Carmel to New York today.

"Our driver, Harry Burrows, went to get it at 5 this morning and it wasn't there," Davis said. He said a night watchman reported that the bus, which had been driven here from New York Friday night, was still in the lot when he went off duty at 2 a. m.

State police broadcast an all-points alert.

"You can't miss it," said Davis. "It's white on top, and red and silver-trimmed. I don't see how they thought they could get very far."

MAN KILLED IN BOMBER CRASH

HASTY, Colo. (AP)—An Air Force B47 jet bomber with four persons aboard crashed early today near the John Martin reservoir on the Arkansas River in southeastern Colorado.

The Air Force said one occupant of the plane was killed, two survived and one was missing.

The bomber, which normally carries a crew of three, crashed about 7 miles south and 5 miles east of Hasty, a village north of the reservoir.

The plane was from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson, Ariz. Authorities there said it was learned that the two survivors had ejected from the plane and were in good condition at a hospital at Lamar, Colo.

Davis-Monthan officials said the plane took off at 9:45 p.m. (MST) and crashed at 12:15 a.m. (MST) just after completing a high altitude simulated bomb release over Colorado.

Names of the crewmen will not be released until next of kin have been notified, the Air Force said.

Al Besselnik, defending champion of the District PGA, soared to a 76 in Friday's first round.

of $64.99 each, a total of almost $3,900. "Interest at six or eight per cent would make it much more," Teeter added.

Dick was also given a hand printed index card signed by "B. Shane" which later turned out to be Barry Marx. The card indicated that the Dicks were to receive $365 as the first payment.

Dick testified that the men also wanted him to sign some sort of a bank note, but he added that he knew what a bank note looked like and he wouldn't sign it.

Under cross examination, Dick said it wouldn't have made any difference whether the men had used their right names, whether one was an employee of Reynolds or what salary he was getting, he probably would have signed the contract anyhow.

Cpl. Treas testified that when he found the defendants at the Dick home the following morning, the men readily confessed they had used aliases, were not employees of the Reynolds Co., and were not salaried as such.

HANOVERIANS ASK VOTE ON ZONING PLAN

A bundle of petitions bearing the signatures of nearly 2,500 citizens of Hanover was placed in the hands of Hanover borough council Thursday night, challenging members of the town's governing body to hold a public referendum on the proposed zoning ordinance.

Underlining the major argument of opposing factions at previous public hearings on the zoning proposal, the petition preface urged borough authorities to permit a citizens' vote on the issue before final action on its enactment is taken by council.

Brushing aside introductory remarks by Burnell Stambaugh, council president, asserting that the hearing was dedicated to a discussion of district boundaries as proposed in the zoning ordinance, William G. Lingg, 207 Sunset Ave., Hanover, spokesman for the petitioners, requested council to put the zoning issue up to a public vote.

Despite a redeclaration of borough policy that the zoning proposal was being handled in accord with state regulations and borough code stipulations, Lingg stated he and other residents felt the fate of borough zoning should be decided

Today's Talk

POWER WORKS SILENTLY
There is nothing to bluster. I have met a good number of very great men in my long life and I have always marveled at their simplicity and modest mien.

The big machine with the greatest number of parts usually runs smoothest and with the least noise.

Power is almost always silent. The mighty Niagara gives little evidence of its power until you hear its waters hitting the river below the falls. You see huge movement but are fascinated rather than aroused.

The man you want to avoid in a fight is the one who says little. The loud talker always draws out what semblance of brains he possesses. The thinker opens the windows of his mind so that you can look in—by keeping silent and listening.

It is well to judge your friend very slowly, especially if you feel much about him. Words are such deceptive affairs. Power works silently and you never quite know when it is at its height.

The small stream, beautiful as it is as it ripples along over rocks, makes more noise than the great, wide Hudson River that empties its waters into the Atlantic Ocean. Yet great ocean liners die upon the lap of the Hudson and commerce moves back and forth and up and down its length. The silent story of its power is evident.

I remember hearing the story of a great panic that once gripped America. Everything was tense in the business world. Fear was abroad. But one big financier sat at his desk and gave forth a few short decisive sentences that spelled action and courage. The crisis of the panic passed and the whole country soon took on a new hope. The wheels of prosperity were set in motion for the greater good.

Power works silently. If you want to do big things, THINK big things and then get to them.

Just Folks

A CARE
You have raised a sickly baby
You have known a father's care?Then you've worried greatly, maybe
You have tasted of despair;
And you think you know
Old WorryIn his deepest, blackest stripe,
But I wonder have you ever
Tried to shade a meerschaum pipe?You have seen your business venture
Slowing going to the wall;
You've worked night and day to save it,In the end to see it fall.
You have seen a money panic
All your assets quickly swipe,
But have you tried to color
A brand new meerschaum pipe.Oh, the world is full of troubles
And your pathways are beset
With worries that torment you
And with cares that come to fret;But a care beyond endurance—
Of a most depressing type—
Is to vainly strive to color
A brand new meerschaum pipe.

In the past few years thousands of pilgrims from every state in the union have visited the grotto. Devotions such as Mass and benedictions are held regularly. The 100-year-old tradition of the Mount St. Mary's students attending Mass there on May 1, Mary's month, continues.

Msgr. Mulchay's booklet is the first complete history of the grotto. It is illustrated with numerous pictures which show both old and current views of the grotto, some of the individuals who had a part in its erection, and pilgrims attending services.

The cover photo is a striking color view of the shrine. Msgr. Mulchay has dedicated his study to Rev. Fr. Phillips, the restorer of the grotto, and the Seminarians who assisted him. The brochure is an authentic bit of Catholic Americana.

The booklet (10,000 copies) was printed by the Times and News Publishing Co.

Battle Tunisians

TUNIS (AP) — French paratroopers clashed today with hundreds of Tunisians attempting to break through barbed wire barricades around the French-held sector of Bizerte, the Tunisian radio reported.

The government radio said paratroopers hurled incendiary bombs and beer bottles to hold back the crowds.

"Blood has flowed," shouted the radio announcer.

Telephoned reports from the port city said the crowd of demonstrators appeared to be dwindling and there seemed little chance they would cut through the barbed wire.

The Tunisians turned out in response to a call by President Habib Bourguiba for peaceful demonstrations against the continuing occupation of Bizerte. French troops fought their way into the city last month after Tunisians tried to blockade France's naval-air base nearby.

You should be able to roll out dough for two 9-inch pie shells from a pastry recipe calling for two cups of flour and ¾ cup shortening.

WHEAT QUOTA

Gettysburg National Bank and both will begin at 8 o'clock.

In a statement issued today, the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee pointed out that farmers must approve the marketing quotas by a two-thirds majority before the quotas can be put into effect. If the referendum fails, wheat support prices to cooperators will be set at 50 percent of parity, and wheat stabilization payment for conservation will not be available.

ASK 10 PER CENT CUT
The committee said that a new stabilization program for wheat will also be available if the referendum is approved by wheat growers.

This program is similar to the 1961 feed grain program, which helped reduce the corn and sorghum production of the country.

Under the plan for wheat, producers would be asked to cut back wheat acreage at least 10 percent, with the choice of an additional 30 percent if they wished. The Federal Government would pay farmers for the acreage reduction. The acreage thus taken out of production would be put into agricultural conservation uses. The minimum national average price support under a quota program would be $2 a bushel — 21 cents higher than the 1961-crop support.

Says Fresh, Tree-Ripened Peaches "Good Buy" Now

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

For just a short time each year, you can buy fresh, juicy tree-ripened peaches. Home-grown peaches are nearing their peak and it is now time to use your favorite peach recipes and plan for freezing, jams, canning your favorite varieties. Pennsylvania Peach Week is August 16-27. The peach crop is reported smaller than last year's, too.

Mrs. Tunison

Peaches are delicious and good for you, too. Yellow peaches give you Vitamins A and C—two vitamins everyone needs. Peaches are low in calories if eaten fresh or sliced.

A new attractive publication from the National Peach Council contains many excellent recipes. A peach torte and a peach crisp are two recipes we have enjoyed from this collection.

On Monday, August 21, the county Peach Dessert Contest open to girls 15-21 will be held at 1:30 p.m. at the First National Bank on Lincoln Square. Many good recipes are reproduced at this contest.

Hidden Peach Dessert is a peachy dessert:

HIDDEN PEACH DESSERT

For this you will need a baking dish (one quart) and a custard cup of the same height. An 8" square, shallow glass dish and a custard cup would be just right. Place the custard cup upside down in the center of the dish. Place peeled peach halves cut side down around the custard cup and pour over them about 1/4 cup melted currant or other tart jelly. Make a rich biscuit dough with 1 to 1 1/2 cups of flour. Roll dough size of dish and cover the dish with it, pressing dough firmly to inside of dish (make a tight seal). Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 30 minutes. Remove from the oven and let stand 5 to 10 minutes. Loosen dough around the edge. Place a large plate over the dish and very quickly turn plate and dish upside down to allow dessert to fall onto dish.

Sauce should be in the cup. Serves 6 to 8.

JAM EASY TO MAKE

If you like peaches, a good way to serve them the year 'round is in jam—perfect for breakfasts and between-meal snacks. Pennsylvania-grown peaches are reaching markets now and will be plentiful for the next few weeks.

Peach jam is most satisfactory when made with added pectin. Use fully-ripe peaches for best flavor. If you prefer not to add pectin, include some underripe fruit. Its higher pectin content gives a firm product.

Mix powdered pectin with the crushed fruit before cooking. Add liquid pectin to the cooked fruit and sugar mixture immediately after the mixture is removed from the heat.

When pectin is used, cook fruit one minute at a full boil until bubbles form over the entire surface. Without added pectin, cook until temperature reaches 221 degrees or until jam thickens.

With one package of powdered pectin, use 3 3/4 cups crushed peaches, 1/4 cup lemon juice and five cups sugar. To each one-half bottle of liquid pectin, use 4 1/4 cups crushed peaches, 1/4 cup lemon juice and seven cups sugar. Stir mixture constantly while cooking to prevent fruit from sticking.

To keep fruit from rising to the top in the finished jam, stir the mixture gently at frequent intervals for five minutes after taking it from the heat. Skim off any foam that appears on the surface. Ladle jam into hot glasses and fill to 1/4 inch from top. Cover at once with a thin layer of hot paraffin. Store in a cool, dry place.

TEMPTING MEALS

Good home preserved foods are tasty, satisfying and time saving. But food preservation does take energy and money. That's why no one can afford to take a chance on food spoilage.

If there's any doubt in your mind as to how to have good home preserved foods, take a correspondence course in canning and freezing foods.

Besides giving directions for canning foods and for freezing fresh and cooked foods, the course reveals the secrets of turning out tender, clear jelly without the fear of failure. Recipes for tempt-

FAMILY FARM SHELTER PLAN

READIED AT PSU

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. — The vegetable storage cellar on the average farm, with a little modification, makes an effective family fallout shelter.

To demonstrate this point, agricultural engineers at the Pennsylvania State University are designing and building a combination vegetable storage cellar and fallout shelter on the campus. They believe that rural families can construct a similar shelter for about $500.

The planned shelter, they say, provides much more protection from radiation than those built to the minimum standards of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization. The OCDM is giving $2,000 support to the project, which is still in the blueprint stage.

STORM SHELTER, TOO

Designed by Ralph E. Patterson, professor of agricultural engineering extension, the shelter measures eight by 12 feet inside, with a concrete and earth roof more than 2 1/2 feet thick. It will hold two weeks' food for a family of five, a battery radio, candles, two beds, a chemical toilet, and other basic equipment. It will have hand-operated ventilation equipment.

It would also serve as a storm shelter.

SCALE MODELS SOON

Unlike the standard OCDM shelter, Penn State's is designed to be built into a bank or hillside. It is intended for rural areas but Patterson points out that it could be adapted just as well to modified ing jars of pickles are included.

It's a course full of pointers to make your work speedy and sure. You can study it when you have time and keep the course handy to refer to during the food preservation season.

The complete course will be mailed promptly to you if you send $1.25 to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Pa. Ask for the home study course on canning and freezing foods and make your check or money order payable to the Pennsylvania State University. Mailing costs are prepaid.

Farming Plays Important Role In Economy Of Nation

Farming is not only the basic industry (everyone has to eat), it also is basic to the nation's welfare because of the many uses to which farm products are put for industry, and because of its importance to the economy of the nation.

A summary on "What Farming Is" reveals these many facets of agriculture:

FARMING IS FOOD

Each of us in 1959 consumed these and other products of farm and ranch:

160.1 pounds of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton.

Nearly 35 pounds of chicken and turkey.

196 pounds of fruits (fresh fruit equivalent).

196 pounds of vegetables (fresh vegetable equivalent).

678 pounds of dairy products (whole milk equivalent).

106 pounds of potatoes and 8.5 pounds of sweet potatoes.

We can choose from as many as 5,000 different foods when we go to market — fresh, canned, frozen, concentrated, dehydrated, ready-mixed, ready-to-serve or in heat-and-serve form.

Two-thirds of our protein comes from meat, milk, poultry and other animal products.

CLOTHING

In 1959 we used:

4.3 billion pounds of cotton, or more than 24 pounds per person.

That the equivalent of about 24 house dresses, or 30 dress shirts, for every man, woman and child in the nation.

431 million pounds of wool, more than two pounds per person.

And research has given these natural fibers new qualities. Specially treated cotton resists everything from wrinkles to fire. Wool can be treated to keep it from shrinking when it is washed.

It takes one acre of healthy storage spaces in cities.

"The object is to get people thinking about their own protection," says Patterson, who bears part of the official responsibility for Civil Defense education in rural Pennsylvania.

While the Penn State demonstration shelter will cost more, Patterson estimates that a farm family can build the shelter in a vegetable or fruit storage cellar for about $500 if they do much of the construction work themselves.

Specifications and scale models of the prototype shelter should be completed in two months and Patterson hopes to have the actual shelter completed by the end of the year.

Officers No Match For Big Alligator

FT. STEWART, Ga. (AP) — A 6-foot alligator proved too rambunctious for three Army officers from Ft. Stewart.

Capt. H. E. Motley said he and the other officers were driving a truck on the Army reservation last week when they spotted the reptile crawling along the road and "stopped to have a little fun." "We took a canoe paddle out of the truck and poked it at the alligator," he said. "It snapped the paddle in two. We started back toward the truck. So did the alligator."

"We got another paddle and tried to beat the alligator off but it splintered that paddle, too."

Motley said they climbed into the truck and the alligator then crawled under the vehicle, chewing off the tailpipe and muffler and biting the axle.

At that point, Motley said, the officers decided they were no match for the reptile and drove away quickly.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Robert Schumack of Hazleton, Pa., Friday was elected national inspector of the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

$1.29 in net income for one hour of farm work, including income from capital assets. By contrast one hour's work in a factory averaged $2.22 and hourly earnings in food marketing averaged $2.06.

SPEND FOR FOOD

From Our Income: 20 per cent of our disposable income went for food in 1959. If we had bought in 1959 the same kinds and quantities of food we ate in 1935-39, we would have spent only 15 per cent of our 1959 income.

"We spent 23 1/2 per cent of our disposable income for food in 1929 and 22 1/3 per cent in 1939."

Japanese spend about 42 per cent of their disposable income for food. West Germany 45 per cent and Russians 56 per cent.

In Terms of an Hour's Work: One hour's work in a factory buys more food today than it did 20 or 30 years ago. Pay for one hour's factory labor would buy:

Round steak: 2.1 pounds in 1939; 1.8 pounds in 1959; 1.2 in 1929; or

Bacon: 3.3 pounds in 1939; two pounds in 1959; 1.3 in 1929; or

Milk: 17.6 pints in 1939; 10.4 pints in 1959; 7.8 in 1929; or

Oranges: 3.3 dozen in 1959; 2.2 dozen in 1939; 1.3 in 1929.

As Compared With Other Products:

Food costs have risen less since 1947-49 than most other consumer items in the cost-of-living index. For all items on the list, the increase in cost to late 1960 was 27.4 per cent. For all food, the increase was 21.1 per cent.

The retail cost of the farm food "market basket" is 12 per cent higher than it was in 1947-49, but the farm value of the food in this market basket is 14 per cent lower.

MRA FOUNDER BURIED FRIDAY

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Moral Re-Armament movement, was buried Friday among tributes from his followers beside his parents and a brother.

The Rev. Arnold F. Keller, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church where services were held, said the funeral was "in a spirit of triumph and victory with no sense of mourning." About 100 followers attended.

Among those speaking briefly at the church and the graveside were Ho Ying-Chen, chairman of the Military Strategy Board of Formosa; Stanley Kinga, a former Mau Mau leader in Kenya; actress Muriel Smith; Princess Adelbert of Prussia, and Mme. Irene Laure, socialist leader in the French parliament.

DIED AUGUST 7

Previous services had been held in Freudenstadt, Germany, where Buchman died of a heart attack Aug. 7, and again in Caux, Switzerland, MRA headquarters.

Buchman, 83, son of a Pennsylvania Dutch liquor dealer and an ordained Lutheran minister, founded the MRA movement in 1938. It rose to international prominence under the shadows of the approaching world war.

The movement advocates character improvement as the first step toward an ideal world society. It stresses honesty and selflessness.

Inventor Has 80th Birthday Friday

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Edwin S. Pridham, whose inventiveness made the world a much noisier planet, celebrates his 80th birthday quietly Friday.

Pridham, some 50 years ago, invented the dynamic loudspeaker—the coil that powered untold billions of decibels in public address systems, radios, high fidelity phonographs and television sets.

Pridham recalled that his invention grew out of an effort to develop a telephone receiver to be more sensitive than those in use in 1911. He worked in a converted farmhouse laboratory in Napa, Calif., after graduation from Stanford in 1909 with a degree in physics.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank B. Mast, 72, a leader in Lithuanian affairs in this country, died Wednesday. He served as a counselor to the Lithuanian commission at the Paris Peace Conference after World War I and later was counselor to the Lithuanian Legation in Washington.

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Baglogh 70, boxing announcer who announced most of Joe Louis' championship fights in the 1930's, died Wednesday.

Kennedy Pun Makes Jacqueline Laugh

BOSTON (AP) — A song line about "all those Kennedys" drew a smile and applause from Jacqueline Kennedy Thursday night as the President's wife watched the musical comedy "Sail Away."

The First Lady got the first and last ovations of the evening when she came and left the crowded Colonial Theater.

She told author Noel Coward she thought the play was wonderful.

Comedienne Elaine Stritch had the Kennedy line. It went: "Why do the wrong people travel when the right people stay back home — with all those Kennedys?"

The line is a regular part of the show.

Mrs. Kennedy applauded enthusiastically during the musical about shipboard romance on a Caribbean cruise.

Passenger Dies As Car Overturns

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A car hit the dividing strip on Bigelow Boulevard early today and overturned, killing James Ekedall, about 20, of suburban Mount Lebanon.

Ekedall was a passenger in the car driven by Charles Peelor Jr., 22, of Pittsburgh. Peelor was listed in fair condition at Mercy Hospital.

NATURAL DEVELOPMENT

Television commercials were just a natural development to see that the delightful match-line voice did not always have the looks and figure to match.

MUST HAVE LOOKS

No matter how acceptable the voice may be, it is absolutely necessary for good looks to go with it in television and especially so in that critical area of commercials. Along with women's intrusions into other professions, it was a natural for television to cash in on the staff's side prime asset—beauty.

Buchman Rites Draw Moral Rearmament Followers In Tribute To Dead Founder

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dignitaries, followers and friends from all over the world gathered here today for funeral services for Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Moral Re-Armament movement.

They were on hand for the services in St. John's Lutheran Church where Dr. Buchman, who was born in nearby Pennsylvania, was ordained into the ministry in the early 1900's. Dr. Buchman died Aug. 7 of a heart attack while vacationing at the Black Forest resort in Freudenstadt, Germany. He was 83.

Seventy cars were lined up for the funeral procession to the church then to the Fairview Cemetery where a plot next to his parents and brother had been set aside for his burial.

INTERNATIONAL GROUP

More than 100 followers arrived here Thursday night to attend the services.

They came from several African nations, China, Iran, Sweden, Great Britain, Switzerland, France, Germany, Ceylon, the Netherlands, Italy, and the United States.

Among them were Gen. Ho Ying-Chin, chairman of the Military Strategy Board of Taiwan, Formosa; Stanley Kinga, of Kenya, a close associate of Jomo Kenyatta; Bishop Bengt Jonzon, of Sweden's northernmost Diocese; actress Muriel Smith, who starred in the original production of Carmen Jones at London's

SERVICES HELD

Services were held in Freudenstadt shortly after Dr. Buchman's death. His body then was shipped here where it lay in a closed casket all week in his home for relatives and friends to pay their respects. A memorial service also had been held in Caux, Switzerland, headquarters of the Moral Re-Armament movement.

Dr. Buchman, the son of a Pennsylvania Dutch liquor dealer, had been an international figure since he founded the "Oxford Group" in 1938. It was a unique "Christian Fellowship" which emerged under the Moral Re-Armament title in 1939.

The name MRA began with a campaign for "moral re-armament—the battle for peace" while the world was on the brink of World War II.

Dr. Buchman's philosophy advocated character improvement as the first step toward an ideal society. It stresses honesty and selflessness.

$20 Counterfeit Bills Appearing

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Special Agent Joseph Jordan of the Philadelphia office of the Secret Service says a large number of counterfeit $20 bills has recently turned up in this city, Wilmington, Del., and some South Jersey shore resorts.

Jordan said the bills, of excellent craftsmanship, first began appearing last winter but greatly increased with the summer season.

He said Wednesday the bills bear either of two face plate numbers—370 or 701. The face plate number of a bill appears in small type in the lower right hand corner of the picture side.

Powder Boy

As the Northern Navy's strength mushroomed in the early days of the Civil War, many boys barely in their teens answered the call of the sea. Above is a typical "powder monkey," whose job was to carry powder from magazines to gun crews.

Navy Seeks Private Vessels To Beef Up Port Blockade

Navy Asks For Small Craft, Ferries, Anything That Floats

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18—Navy Secretary Gideon Welles has asked owners of small craft to make their vessels available to the government for a stepped-up enforcement of the blockade of Southern ports.

Although ordered by President Lincoln almost four months ago on April 19—the blockade has been strictly a hit-or-miss affair so far, due mostly to the inadequate supply of Union ships and sailors to man them. This week Welles and his chief aide, Gustavus F. Fox listed ten Southern ports that, they contended, must be patrolled constantly if efforts to choke rebel supply lines are to become effective. The cities cited were New Orleans; Galveston; Mobile; Pensacola; Norfolk; Charleston; Savannah; and Wilmington. New Bern and Wilmington in North Carolina.

At the time of Mr. Lincoln's order, the Navy had only 40 wooden ships—most of which were, and still are, on foreign station.

In his recent appeal, Welles sought donation to the government of pleasure craft as well as tugboats and ferry boats, calling especially for shallow-draft vessels to patrol the tricky approaches to many of the target ports.

Recruiting efforts aimed at swelling the Union Navy, which numbered some 7,000 officers at the beginning of the war, also are continuing. An estimated 300 Southern-born Navy officers have quit to join the infant Confederate fleet.

TV STARS GET CONFUSED WITH MANY EPISODES

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If, during the coming TV season, the intrepid young private eyes of "Surfside Six" occasionally appear slightly confused, bear with them. At present they are acting in five episodes at one time.

This complicated acting schedule requires meticulous planning because it involves shooting all the scenes in which costar Troy Donahue will appear in the five episodes. Next week Troy takes off for Rome and six weeks of movie making.

The Warner Bros. television film factory which turns out seven different action shows for ABC may not be doing any TV trail blazing, but it has a system that allows performers to take on extra acting jobs.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. has become an important motion picture star with parts he played between "77 Sunset Strip" chores, and now Donahue is doing the same thing.

Shooting episodes in bits and pieces and completely out of any sequence places an extra burden on the performer. Donahue confessed that most of the time recently he has had to get a quick explanation of the plot so he'll know what emotions to evoke.

Donahue, tall and handsome, with sun-darkened skin and sun-bleached hair, is expected to do big things—and big box-office—as a romantic leading man in the trend away from stern, monosyllabic muscle-men heroes. He recently gained favorable comment in the title role of "Parrish," a film he made in prearranged time away from his TV series last season.

"Surfside Six" isn't the only show fitted together like a jig-saw puzzle. The cast of its sister show "Hawaiian Eye" (mutual parent is "77 Sunset Strip") has just returned from a few days of intensive shooting in Honolulu—mostly outdoor scenes to be joined with Hollywood-made sequences.

Donahue's show makes an annual visit to Miami, locale of the series, for the same purpose.

The producers of "Hong Kong" have received more than 12,000 letters mourning the discontinuation of the show. But it is definitely dead. Star Rod Taylor is off to Rome to make a movie.

The old back lot of 20th Century-Fox has been sold to make way for a real estate development.

Father Of Three Leaps To His Death

BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, Pa. (AP)—A father of three children who police said left a note to his wife apparently relating domestic troubles leaped 115 feet to his death Thursday from the Delaware River Bridge linking the Pennsylvania and New Jersey turnpikes, officers reported.

Police said the body of Luis N. Olivero, 38, of Bristol Borough, snapped a 4,000 volt power line and hit the ground, about 100 yards from the riverbank. Electrical service to some 200 homes in the area was temporarily interrupted.

The live oral polio vaccine was developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati. The Salk vaccine, administered by injection, depends on killed virus. It was developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh.

Captain, 9 Crewmen Jump Cuban Ship In Norfolk

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Ten crewmen of the Cuban cargo ship Bahia de Nipe, including the captain, sought political asylum in the United States after diverting the vessel here Thursday night, a naval spokesman said today.

The men radioed their intentions and anchored the 3,800-ton vessel in Lynnhaven Roads, a short distance inside Chesapeake Bay.

The defectors from the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba were taken off the ship aboard a Coast Guard cutter and transferred to the Norfolk Naval Station. There they were interrogated during the

ROGGE'S FINAL REPORT
In Book That Drips With Name Calling
Prosecution Summarizes Sedition Cases

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State
College, Superior

O. JOHN ROGGE, now a New York lawyer, had a brief fling at headline fame during World War II. He was, 1943-46, Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

His job was to liquidate, legally, the Hitlerian Fascism which, since 1924, had been trying to infiltrate American life and politics—for the welfare of Nazi Germany rather than of America.

World War II thundered to a finish in 1945. Nazism was smothered in the smoking rubble of Berlin and other centers of German population. Likewise, Mr. Rogge had been blasted out of his special assignment.

FLUSHED with victory, a joyous America cared not a whit whether Mr. Rogge won or lost his treason cases against Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, the brown shirted Bundist leader; Lawrence Dennis, the deluded former American diplomat; William Dudley Pelley, chief of the Silver Shirts; Sylvester Viereck, the bought journalist, and scores of others such as August Klapprott, Hermann Schwinn, Hans Diebel, et al.

If the devil fish were dead, the evil tentacles would necessarily die. But Mr. Rogge is not so sure about this last point. In Egypt and elsewhere he is positive some of the worst of the evil tentacles, particularly anti-Semitism, are quite healthy, and perhaps growing.

HE IS EQUALLY sure that there is an anti-Semitic international that bore its most evil fruits in Nazism, but which continues under Communism in Russia and her satellites. With this conviction, Mr. Rogge warmed over, for publication, his final report to the U. S. Attorney General with which he ended his mission.

Subsequent research in now available German sources illuminates a few, but not many, erstwhile dark corners. He added a few continuing chapters to bring his indictment of the anti-Semitic international up to date.

The book is published this week under the title, "The Official German Report," (Yoseloff, $6.00, 478 pp.).

THERE ARE several things wrong with the book. We will consider them first and find a cheery word for it by way of conclusion.

In the first place, it is not good, well organized, lucid reporting. A report to an Attorney General is one thing. A book is something else.

Mr. Rogge would have been better advised, had he rewritten his facts in the light of today's perspective, rather than leaving it in fragmented topics indiscriminately draped with names and ideas as of 1943-46.

AMERICANS never go into a war without a great deal of soul searching. Isolationism was dying hard 1939-41. Indeed, it was not dying at all. Congress kept the National Guard divisions on active duty by only one Congressional vote. It was only weeks till Pearl Harbor.

Scores of conscientious men in and out of Congress were grasping at every straw to keep America out of war. Historian Charles A. Beard; Congressmen Hamilton Fish, N. Y., Usher L. Burdick, N. D., and Henry C. Dworshak, N. D.; as well as Senators Rush D. Holt, W. Va., Ernest Lundeen, Minn.; Henrik Shipstead, Minn.; Robert M. La Follette, Wis.; Robert R. Reynolds, N. C.; and Burton K. Wheeler, Mont., are merely illustrative of many, many other loyal Americans then nursing every hope and means toward neutrality.

THEY ARE as excusable for their names becoming entangled in Nazi, nefarious plans and correspondence as have been Mrs. Roosevelt and others for dubious involvements incident to their professional liberalism.

The careless, unreserved dripping of names as collaborators and/or tools of Bundist Kunze and the bought journalist Viereck screaming denunciations of "accusations of guilt by association," were he on the defense side of the table in a left wing, civil liberties case. Mr. Rogge's book further suffers from the paucity of research and detail for his last three chapters.

NOTWITHSTANDING these criticisms,

Gastonia Wins 2nd Straight Title

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Gastonia, N. C., has become the first team in history to win two straight Veterans of Foreign Wars Teenager Baseball championships.

The North Carolinians turned the trick Friday, dumping Bossier City, La., 4-1 behind the no-hit pitching of Candler Baumgardner. A brief streak of wildness in the seventh inning cost Baumgardner a shutout.

Gastonia, which won last year's title with little trouble, breezed through four games without a loss in this year's ninth annual double elimination event.

U. S. WILL NOT LEAVE BERLIN, SAYS JOHNSON

By JOHN FIEHN

BERLIN (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew into Germany today declaring the United States does not intend to retreat in the face of Communist threats in Berlin.

Johnson made the statement as he stopped off in the West German capital of Bonn to confer with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer before pushing on to Berlin.

While he was flying across the Atlantic the United States rushed fresh troops to beef up Allied forces in the Communist-ringed West Berlin.

Britain ordered in troop carriers and scout cars, but the war office said it had not yet decided whether to increase the British troop garrison in Berlin.

"UNITED IN AMERICA"

"We are united in America, regardless of parties and regardless of regions, in our concern for the German people in their present ordeal," Johnson said in a statement while about 1,000 spectators cheered.

Johnson said President Kennedy and the American people are "determined to fulfill all our obligations and to honor all our commitments."

"We are not provocative, neither are we frightened," Johnson declared. "The American people have no genius for retreat, and we do not intend to retreat now."

Adenauer met Johnson and his party at Bonn's airport. The two will confer briefly on steps to counter the Red squeeze on Berlin before going on to the divided city.

TUMULTUOUS WELCOME

A tumultuous welcome awaited Johnson from 2½ million West Berliners, heartened by the Big Three move to bolster their garrisons in the divided city.

President Kennedy ordered a crack U.S. battle group from Mannheim to roll into West Berlin Sunday to bolster the 5,000-man American force already stationed there.

The 1st Battle Group of the 8th Infantry Division moved out of its Sandhofen base near Mannheim at dawn and began heading through 110 miles of Red-dominated East Germany to Berlin.

Men and vehicles to strengthen the British Berlin brigade were expected to begin arriving by train later today. The French were expected to take similar action.

GARRISON OF 11,000

The Allied garrison in West Berlin now totals about 11,000 men and the size of the U.S. buildup would put it in the category of a token expansion. It was not immediately known how many men the British and French are sending in.

In the Red-controlled part of the divided city, the Communist press reported about 10,000 youths had volunteered for military service to strengthen East Germany's 110,000-man army.

Johnson carried a message from Kennedy to West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt who declared earlier this week that the West should hit back with political action as well as words against the Red squeeze on East German travel to West Berlin.

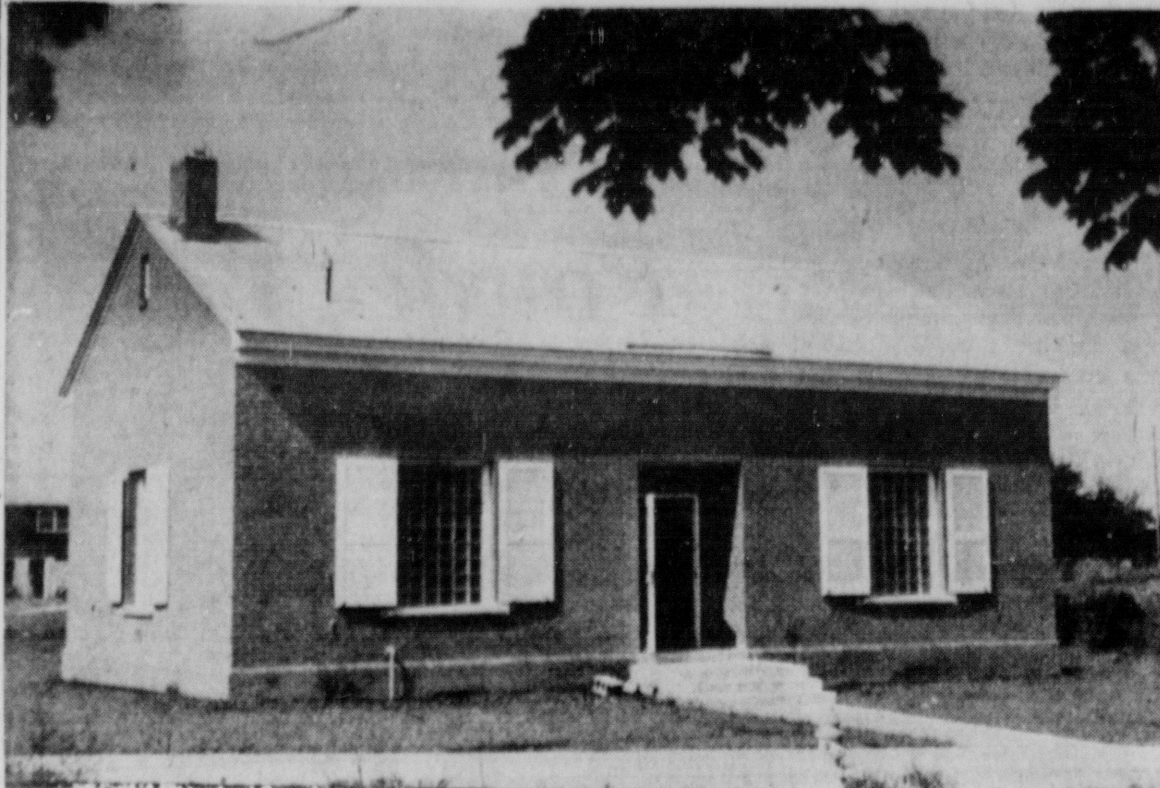

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Pennsylvania's senators, Democrat Joseph Clark, and Republican Hugh Scott, voted with the majority Friday night as the Senate passed, 66-24, its $4 billion foreign aid authorization bill.

A/3C George G. Collins Jr. arrived Thursday to spend a leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. George G. Collins, Prince St. He recently completed eight weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., and received his present rating. He will report to Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss., August 30.

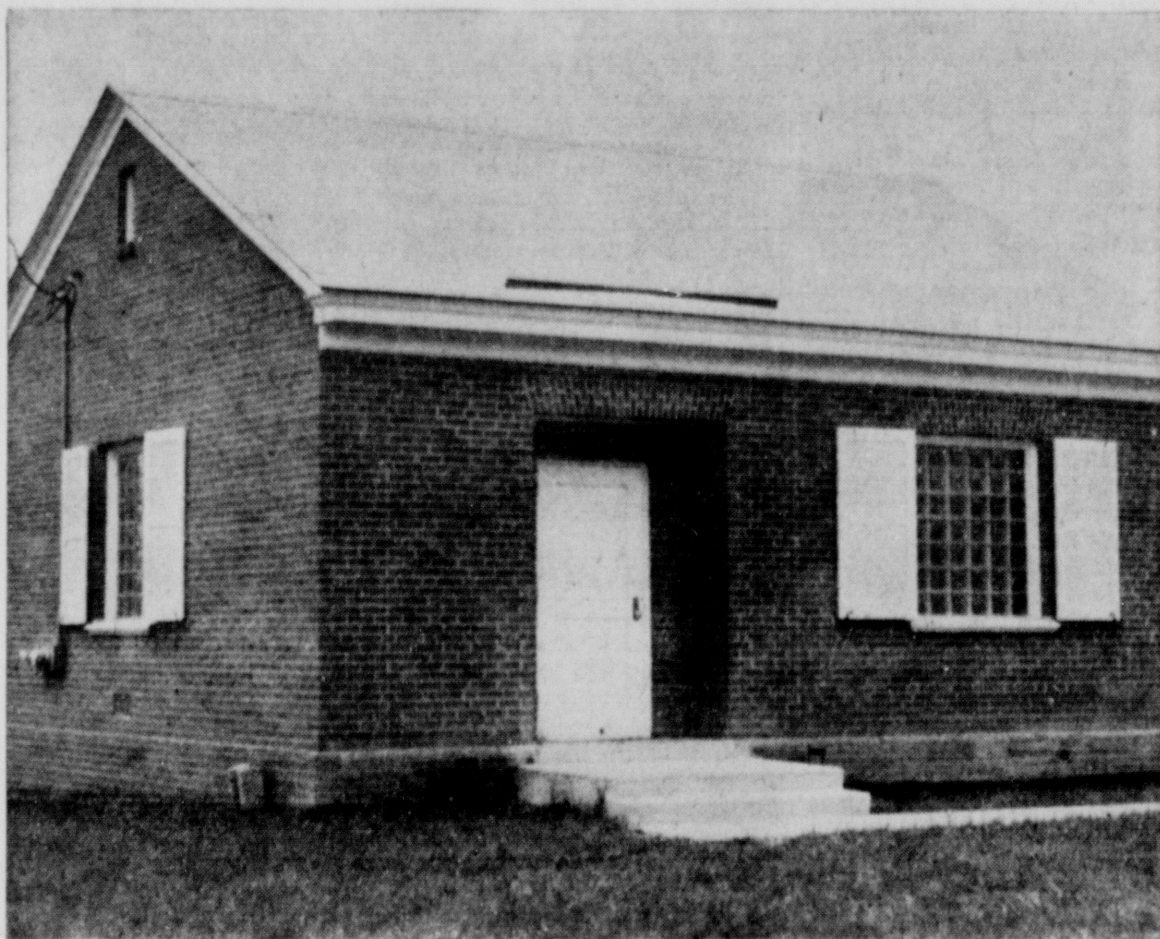

The swimming program has concluded after two weeks of instructions. The total enrollment was 156 with an average daily attendance of 128. This was the first time such a program was conducted and it is planned to expand the program when it is repeated in future years. Stewart N. Long, chairman, thanked parents who volunteered transportation to Crouse's Pool.

Boy Is Held In Shooting Of Girl

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy was in the custody of juvenile authorities today pending further police investigation of the fatal wounding of an 8-year-old girl.

State police said William Show Jr. fired a shotgun blast through a bathroom door at his home in nearby Coolspring Friday, and the charge hit Dolores Renner, also of Coolspring.

Rushed to Uniontown Hospital, the Renner child died a short while later from wounds of the chest and side.

Police said the Show boy reportedly had chased the Renner girl and his 9-year-old sister, Phyllis, into the bathroom just before the shot was fired.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Show, were in Uniontown at the time.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE GRAVE OF

CHARLES THOMSON

Any study of the "Upper" Reformed Dutch Churchyard of the Conewago is bound to be incomplete. Too few records exist in addition to the vandalism of the two old burial grounds — the "Lower" being in much worse condition than the "Upper." In both are many unmarked graves and that makes the work of the researcher doubly difficult. The notes on the "Upper" graveyard, to be concluded in this column, were, of necessity, on the sketchy side but at least they threw some light on the founding fathers of the Low Dutch Settlement and their descendants. Several weeks hence historical and genealogical material on the other ("Lower") Dutch burial ground will be started in this series of articles.

Before leaving the "Upper" Reformed Dutch Churchyard some data on the Monforts, not included in the sketch of that family, are herewith given. These were taken from the notes of the Rev. J. K. Demarest.

HAD FOUR SONS

"John Monfort (or Manfort), the son of Peter Monfort, was born in 1717 and died May 4, 1777. He (John Monfort) was the father of four sons — namely Peter Monfort, born July 4, 1744; Francis Monfort, born July 10, 1746; John Monfort, born December 24, 1750; and Lawrence Monfort, born March 3, 1753. It is traditional that Lawrence Monfort and two of his brothers served with distinction in the War of the American Revolution. The Monforts were allied, by marriage, with the Cassatts."

This concludes, for the present or until some new material is unearthed, the notes on the "Upper" Dutch Reformed Churchyard of the Conewago — sometimes called "Osborne's."

One of the more interesting historical mysteries in Pennsylvania history concerns the grave of Charles Thomson, Secretary to the Continental Congress. In the old newspaper files in the Pennsylvania State Library at Harrisburg some loose ends were put "in place" and the complete story appears to be as follows:—

BORN IN IRELAND

Charles Thomson, longtime Secretary of the Continental Congress, was born in County Derry, Ireland, on November 20, 1729 and came to America when he was ten years of age, one of the six orphaned children set ashore at New Castle, Delaware. The mother had died in Ireland; the father, John Thomson, died on shipboard — within sight of the American shores. Apparently the Thomson children were not left destitute and had both relatives and friends in William Penn's province.

Young Charles Thomson was enrolled in the Academy of Dr. Francis Alison, New London, Chester County, and there completed his formal education. After leaving the academy he (Thomson) conducted a private school for some four years. In 1750,

Joseph Galloway was surprised as well as chagrined when this Charles Thomson, whom he characterized as "one of the most violent of the Sons of Liberty (so-called) in America," was chosen by Congress to be its secretary. Following the adjournment of Congress at the end of October, Thomson was conspicuous in the Pennsylvania political scene and on the ressembling of Congress in May 1775 he was again chosen secretary.

It is as secretary of the Continental Congress that Charles Thomson is best known. For nearly fifteen years he sat at the secretarial table, listening to the debates, minuting the birth-records of a nation. As year succeeded years, delegates came and delegates went, but Charles Thomson, the "perpetual secretary," remained. The great drama of the War of the American Revolution as enacted on the stage of the Continental Congress Thomson beheld from the beginning to its consummation as did no other man. Although Congress, from time to time, prescribed some of the duties of the secretary, occasionally laid new tasks on him and even now and then sought to regulate the secretarial function, the office was from the first to the last conducted much as Charles Thomson was pleased to conduct it.

The notes on Charles Thomson, great American, will be continued in this column next week.

To Close Reactor Plant To Refuel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The nuclear power reactor at the Shippingport Atomic Power Station has been closed down for refueling.

The nation's first such reactor, in operation since 1957, was closed down Wednesday for 2½ months. The only other time it was closed for refueling was in the early part of 1960.

Sine then, the plant produced 13,706 full-power hours, enough to supply 300,000 families for a year. The plant, operated by Duquesne Light Co., is located about 25 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

The notes on Charles Thomson, great American, will be continued in this column next week.

Satellite Reveals New Ocean Storms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau Friday credited the Tiro's III hurricane-hunting satellite with discovering two new Pacific Ocean storms which didn't show on the weather maps.

The new storms were photographed in their infancy Thursday about 500 miles south and south-east of Hawaii. The area has no weather observation stations, and no indication of the storms had been received from other sources.

Their presence was determined by meteorologists at Wallops Island, Va., and Point Mugu, Calif., from analysis of cloud pictures taken and transmitted by the satellite.

Wine, Champagne Spilled In Mishap

MANSFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Many Mansfield area residents were left without television service Friday after a trailer truck loaded with champagne and wine ran off Route 15 and snapped a TV cable.

Robert H. Clatterbuck, the 42-year-old truck driver from Alexandria, Va., was taken to Robert Packer Memorial Hospital in Sayre, where he was reported in satisfactory condition.

Bottles of champagne and wine were scattered over a wide area of the highway. A large quantity of the potables disappeared.

Special utility crews were summoned to restore the television service. They said hundreds of wires were cut in the crash.

Runaway Bride To Postpone Wedding

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—A runaway bride-to-be, happily reunited with her father, headed for her Miami, Fla., home today uncertain whether she can pick up the threads of her romance.

"I might go to Europe," said honeymooned Gigi Gorman, 18, Friday. "At any rate the wedding is postponed and there is no future date set."

Gigi left home Tuesday night, on the eve of her planned swank wedding to Robert M. Oliver III, 19, Miami.

She was stopped by a state trooper near Columbia Friday morning after a stolen car report was put out.

Phil's Pilot Says Team Is Pressing

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The hapless Philadelphia Phillies set a modern major league record of 21 straight defeats Friday night by losing 4-1 to the Milwaukee Braves.

The Phillies would have to lose three more consecutive games to meet the all-time record of 24 losses set by the Cleveland Indians then in the National League, in 1899. The Phillies Thursday night broke the American League record of 20 straight losses.

"What's the difference?", a Phillies player asked. "Either one is too long."

Gene Mauch, Phillies manager, said he is not concerned about losing his job.

"It's the team that concerns me," he said. "Everybody's pressing and making it tough on themselves."

Low Burdette extended the Braves' winning streak to eight games and his own record to 15 victories in 23 tries. He struck out three and walked none.
